

Catherine (Cathy) Buttler

It is a pleasure to share a brief overview of myself and of what I hope to offer to both the Board and our fellow members at UCT.

I was born in Ohio and have lived in both Minnesota and New York State before moving to Raleigh in 1978. I now live on the Centennial campus just a couple of miles from our Longview church home. I have a BA degree in Secondary English Education and graduate courses in advertising design.

Like most of you, my life experiences are varied. I worked for a marketing/advertising firm in the Research Triangle Park for three years, owned a restaurant for one year, and then found my career destiny with the Capital City Club just three blocks from UCT, where I have been their private event director and now membership director for the past twenty eight years. Working three blocks from our capital during those years has also nurtured a deep love for downtown Raleigh. I've had the honor of serving on the Membership Board of the Downtown Raleigh Alliance the past two years and I have become an active advocate of downtown Raleigh.

UCT has been my spiritual home the past four years. I have been the leader of the Usher/Greeter Team for the past two and a half years, co-chaired the Social Committee, have participated in various book studies, and have participated in the Spiritual Gifts Program.

My desire to serve on our Board is two-fold. I want to "give back" my time and my talents to the church community that has given so much to me. Our church's presence in downtown Raleigh offers incredibly opportunities for us as a congregation; opportunities to grow with and shape downtown by expressing our Unity values and beliefs. The doors of our building work two ways. We welcome others in and open them out to allow us to engage our neighbors and city in building a better world. If my given time and talents can help achieve this goal then it would be an honor to be given that opportunity by serving on our Board.
